Program: Bob W9AP shared his experiences as part of the February/March 3Y0K DXpedition to Bouvet. Radio equipment and camp were set up on the Island, depending on helicopter transport to/from the Argus, which sailed out of Cape Town – a 7-day journey to/from the island. Sea conditions were rough, and the DXpedition was delayed and cut short due to mechanical repairs to the ship and adverse weather. Temperatures on the island averaged 30° with sustained winds of 40mph. The budgeted $1.75MM project netted 102,000 contacts.
